

I am an avid low power operator, and with the recent actions of several power generating utilities, Broadband Over Power Line is in my opinion, a bad move on the part of the FCC. My power company (Cinergy/Cincinnati Gas and Electric) has demonstrated a serious lack of cooperation to cure current problems. If they are allowed to offer BPL, I do not expect them (CG&E) to prevent or repair problems they create.